PUBLIC RELATIONS STUDENTS HOST SPACE COAST FPRA, BUSINESS LECTURES

By Kelsey Pendleton, For The College of Business

The celebration of the graduation of the Spring 2017 graduates of the College of Business was held on May 28th in the Student Center Ballroom. The event was a highlight of the year.

The event featured a presentation by Scotty Marathas of Meg O'Malley's, and Al Steiginga of Long Doggers participate in the "Taste of Success" lecture hosted by Ingrid Bradley's public relations class. The SAC and College of Business sponsored the event.

The Student Association (SAC) and the College of Business are proud to have hosted this event.

About 60 people attended the event, including faculty, staff, and students.

The event was a great success and a highlight of the year for the College of Business.

ALUM JUMPS AT CHANCE TO PRESENT ACADEMIC PAPER AS A PROFESSIONAL JOURNALIST

By Jerry D. Gallop, Special to The Chronicle

After 25 years in the field, he is finally making a career change to journalism.

Not only is he an accomplished academic, but he is also a dedicated high school teacher and a gifted engineer. He is a professional.

And he has a head and a heart.

But he is a high achiever and a diligent professional. He is a former academic and a former professional. He is a former academic and a former professional. He is a former academic and a former professional.

He is a former academic and a former professional. He is a former academic and a former professional. He is a former academic and a former professional.

He is a former academic and a former professional. He is a former academic and a former professional. He is a former academic and a former professional. He is a former academic and a former professional.
